

Two-year
Federally Funded Traineeship
Focusing on

RESPONSE TO INTERVENTION AND SCHOOL TEAMS

The Department of Rehabilitation Psychology and Special Education has traineeships available to improve the quality and supply of personnel who serve children with disabilities by preparing master's-level school psychologists and master's-level special educators with the skills and knowledge to work effectively in response-to-intervention problem solving teams.

Training to be Team Problem Solvers

Trainees will have access to: multiple field placements with dedicated cooperating teachers who work in problem solving teams; mentoring and coaching from former special educators; emphasis on culturally responsive special education.

Four-semester tuition scholarship awarded!

For more information, visit
<https://tec.education.wisc.edu/become-a-teacher/special-education/response-to-intervention-rti/>

APPLICATIONS DUE JUNE 1, 2020

Special education inquiries contact:
Kayla Armstrong at armstrongalf@wisc.edu
Dr. Kimber Wilkerson at klwilkerson@wisc.edu
School psychology inquires contact:
Dr. Jennifer Asmus at asmus@wisc.edu.